The diagram illustrates a bidirectional relationship between two code snippets. On the left, a white box contains the code `farconfig.CommandSets.CommandSetOG.addHarmonicSeries`. On the right, a gray box contains the code `saveHarmonicSeries`. Two blue arrows connect the boxes: one pointing from the gray box to the white box, and another pointing from the white box to the gray box, indicating that both snippets are related to the same functionality or represent different views of the same operation.
